Always Jul 28 2019 Always, is a true story of a boy accused of murder by his father after a terrible car accident killed his sister and left his right arm paralyzed. It's a journey from birth, through boyhood to manhood and the pain and suffering he had to go through to find the peace of God. His dad was a merchant Marine who was an alcoholic and abusive. His mother was an alcoholic and was obedient to his father. Virginia was the best out of the bunch, and now she was gone. Will was left alone to face a mountain of fear and pain. He had no idea that he did not have to face it alone. Always is a book of hope, hope that things can change when we find the knowledge to change them. And the only knowledge there ever will be. Is that, God is always there, always hears, always answers and always, always, loves us. It's a story of salvation for a family, not just one person. GOD's great like that. You will be introduced to a family that was so dysfunctional, yet no one knew that they were dysfunctional. Sin usually hides itself within families that way. God has a way of wiping the sin away and leaving a wonderful functional family. It's only when the people in the family sees 'and recognize the sin, find God and ask for forgiveness that the peace, love and joy are found. It will make you laugh, and cry, but most of all it will let you see God in the way He works in people's lives, for them, with them and through them..... GOD ALWAYS!!!

Go-Kart Alley Oct 23 2021 When the railroad tracks through Sumner are abandoned, twelve-year-old Jess McCormick and his little brother, Brian, find an opportunity to capitalize on the situation. Seventy-five miles of railroad right-of-way become a go-kart highway, practically running through their backyard. With technical skills beyond those of their peers, endless resources, tools and used parts, they become entrepreneurs by opening up a custom go-kart shop in an old work shed behind their house. Their shop becomes the go-kart center of the trail. Every kid in Sumner and the surrounding area comes to see the small-engine whiz kids about getting modifications made to their go-karts. Everyone scrounges, saves and raids area junkyards in search of resources to build the faster, better go-kart. Some come by the local pizza parlor to challenge Jess, who is known all along the trail to have the fastest go-kart. The hard working boys make a few enemies along the way, but they also embrace friendships. They make a little money, hang out a lot, go on a few hairy rides, and even get a friend or two out of a tight scrape. It isn't until they venture into the world of Jr. Drag Racing that their mechanical as well as business skills are really put to the test.

How to Build with Grid Beam Sep 21 2021 Grid beam is a modular, reusable building system that is fast, easy, affordable, and virtually goof-proof. Ordinary people with few skills and even fewer tools (all you need is a wrench!) can tackle projects ranging from furniture and shop benches to more ambitious projects like wind turbines, truck racks, small buildings—even electric vehicles. Grid beam's modular pieces and bolt-together construction make the system fast and straightforward to work with. It has all the advantages of an industrial building system: standard, modular sizes; uniform materials; and interchangeable parts. Projects knock flat and are easy to transport. Since the pieces can be used over and over again, grid beam is easy both on your wallet and on the environment—the authors have been using some of their components for over thirty years. How to Build with Grid Beam includes hundreds of photos of real projects built over a sixty-year period, showing the many uses of grid beam, from shelves for college students to projects involving alternative energy. The versatility of grid beam is inspiring for beginners, more experienced do-it-yourselfers, and innovators who will develop their own designs. Even school-age children can use grid beam to build simple projects. Phil Jergenson is an innovator who built the first grid beam vehicle. Richard Jergenson built his first grid beam project in 1977. Wilma Keppel is a writer and editor who is also a welder, carpenter, and grid beam builder.

Team Building May 18 2021 Casey Stengel once said, getting great players is simple, getting them to have together is the hard part. Also, Henry Ford discloses to us meeting up as a start, remaining together as progress, and cooperating is achievement. Plainly recruiting great individuals in your organization is only the initial move towards hierarchical achievement. The genuine key is getting them to cooperate better. You need a group whose individuals know one another, see one another, trust one another, and can cooperate in a firm and viable way. How would we influence this sort of advancement in our colleagues, how would we frame the bonds and connections important to develop a perfectly tuned symphony our association needs? In this course, we'll tell you the best way to do precisely that.
